BIG SHOE FACTORY FIRE.

OVER SEVEN HUNDRED HANDS
THROWN OUT OF EMPLOYMENT.

Krippendorf, Dittman & Company's Large Building in Cincinnati, Together With Its Valuable Machinery and Large Stock, Entirely Consumed.

CINCINNATI, July 25.—Shortly before 4 o'clock a. m. an alarm of fire was turned in from the No. 4 engine-house, and the bell never ceased ringing until a general alarm had been sounded, calling all the engines of the department to what threatened to be the most disastrous conflagration the city has ever had.

Situated at the northeast corner of New and Sycamore streets is, or rather was, the large six-story brick and stone building occupied by Krippendorf, Dittman & Company, manufacturers of fine shoes. Shortly before 4 o'clock flames were discovered in the second story front, by Night-watchman Williams, who immediately notified the firemen of No. 4 Company, located only a short distance from the factory. Before the firemen could get out of the house, however, the flames had ascended through the elevator and spread through the entire live upper stories. Out of every window leaped sheets of flame, and the firemen realized that they had a big job on hand.

So hot was the blaze that it was almost dangerous to get within seventy-five feet of it. But the firemen stood their ground nobly, and advanced as rapidly as possible until they finally had dozens of streams pouring into the very heart of the flames. Then, and not till then, did the streams have any effect.

But by this time all the damage that could be done had been done, and nothing but the walls were left for the flames to feed upon. Wall after wall then fell and in a few minutes nothing but the once handsome front of the building was left standing. Cracked, burned and bulged all out of shape, and the firemen are now at work pulling it down for safety's sake.

Part of the rear wall fell upon the houses owned by Patrick Doyle, located on North street, and crushed them in, entailing a loss upon Doyle of probably $2,000. The carriage shed of Pat Sawyer, adjoining the shoe factory on the north, was crushed in, but only the shed was destroyed, as everything had been removed from it.

North of the factory, about one hundred feet, is the six-story shoe factory of Blacker, Gerstle & Company. Every pane of glass in the large structure was broken by the heat from the fire, and all the window casings are charred and burned. It was with difficulty that the firemen saved this building.

The factory occupied by Krippendorf, Dittman & Company was one of the finest in the country, and was supplied with the latest improved machinery. It was complete in every particular. The building was erected about two years ago at a cost of $80,000. Machinery was put in the building costing over $100,000.

The entire building, machinery and stock is a total loss. The firm had on hand a large stock of manufactured goods and raw material, valued as near as could be learned, at $60,000. Of late the factory has been kept busy filling orders, and the men in the cutting room have been working overtime.

Some of the men had worked in this department until 1 o'clock, when they went home. It was in the place where they had been at work that the flames were first discovered. There is no fire about this part of the building at all, which makes the origin of the fire all the more mysterious. It was only three hours after they had left the room that the fire was discovered.

The loss will amount to about $250,000, with an insurance of something like $150,000. By the fire almost seven hundred persons are thrown out of employment. Of these 350 are girls, the balance being men and boys.

Although the walls fell in every direction not an accident of any kind was reported. Several firemen had their faces and hands blistered by the heat, but beyond that nobody was injured that could be heard of.

An Opera House Burned.

BUTTE, Mont., July 25.—The Grand opera house, valued at $60,000, was destroyed by fire yesterday evening. The Adele Payne company were billed, and the curtain had just been rung up when fire caught in the wings. The building was entirely destroyed, with contents. The Old Fellows' hall adjoining, was also destroyed. No lives were lost.

Obstinate Even Unto Death.

CHICAGO, July 25.—James Hutchins, a well-to-do resident of this city, was buried from his house at the corner of Sherman avenue and Forty-sixth street Monday. Mr. Hutchins' death occurred on Saturday evening. The death-bed scene in his comfortable home was an extraordinary one. The dying man had not spoken a word to his wife in twelve years, and for that time they had occupied separate rooms in the same house. The estrangement was caused by his unjustifiable accusation of infidelity on the part of his wife. Shortly before his death, when he knew the end was near, the wife besought his forgiveness, but he refused to recognize her, and died without a sign of relenting.

Good Cause for Rejoicing.

MARION, Ind., July 25.—There was great rejoicing here when a telegram from Washington announced that the president had signed the bill appropriating $50,000 for a National soldiers' home at Marion. Flags and hunting were lavishly displayed and the town was in an uproar with brass bands, horns and kazoos. The demonstration opened with a presidential salute of twenty-one guns. The home of Maj. Steele, who was instrumental in securing the passage of the bill, was visited and serenaded. Maj. Steele telegraphed that he would be home next Saturday evening, and a monster celebration is being prepared in his honor.

CINCINNATI, July 25.—The tunnel at North Bend, O., on the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago—Big Four—railroad is now a thing of the past. All passenger trains are now running around the tunnel over a new road, and trains now pass in full view of the tomb of Gen. William H. Harrison, ex-president of the United States.

LABOR NEWS.

Prominent Labor Men Being Shadowed By Detectives—Notes.

PITTSBURGH, July 25.—Homer L. Magaw, ex-general secretary of the Knights of Labor, was shown a dispatch from Chicago Monday to the effect that Pinkerton men have been placed on nearly all the trunk lines of the country to spy upon the actions of the workmen, said he believed it true that prominent men in all labor organizations were watched. He was himself shadowed a number of times by a Pinkerton man and believed that in all parts of the country these detectives, in the guise of workmen, have become members of labor organizations.

Harrison Condemned.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 25.—The Central Labor union held a meeting Monday night, and a series of resolutions condemning Harrison for his votes on the Chinese bill, his attitude toward the strikers in 1877, and his action on the eight-hour question, came up and were discussed by the meeting. In the course of his speech, John Farnham, of the cigar makers' union, said the cigar makers of the city were about equally divided politically, but only seven in all the city would vote for Harrison. A number of speeches were made, and the resolutions were adopted as the sentiment of the Central Labor union with but three dissenting votes. The resolutions have been adopted by nearly all the labor unions of the city that have held meetings since Harrison was nominated.

Want a Union of Their Own.

CHICAGO, July 25.—A proposition will be submitted at an early meeting of the North Side conductors and drivers' assembly recommending a secession from the Knights of Labor, and the formation of an independent union similar to that of the West Side men. The advocates of this plan argue that the money paid into the general treasury of the Knights of Labor is virtually thrown away. They are in favor of reorganizing upon a new basis and of then forming a federation between the three separate unions. The scheme has been talked of for a year and will take definite shape within a few weeks.

Demanding Nine Hours.

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—At the meeting of the Iron Molders Union of North America a resolution was adopted declaring that after April 1, 1889, nine hours shall constitute a day's work, and in strikes will be ordered if necessary to carry out this order. The resolution was adopted by a close vote, after which the union adjourned until next year.

Will Carry on the Fight.

DENVER, Col., July 25.—Chairmen Hoge and Murphy, of the Burlington grievance committee, arrived here Monday morning, and called a meeting of the striking engineers and firemen, to discuss the question of calling off the Burlington strike. After an interesting session, lasting several hours, the strikers unanimously decided to carry on the fight.

To Shut Down Indefinitely.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 25.—The hosiery company, of this city, will close on Saturday for an indefinite time, as the directors say. President Carpenter promises to start the works as soon as the market will allow of its being done. At present 800 hands are employed, but in good times there are 1,100.

En Route to Denver.

KANSAS CITY, July 25.—George S. Bailey, assistant grand master of the Switchmen's union, passed through here Monday to Denver to adjust the switchmen's grievances there. The Burlington strike here is now simply a lockout.

Seven Thousand Colliers' Strike.

LONDON, July 25.—Seven thousand colliers have struck for higher wages at Pont-y-Pridd, Wales.

ORGANIZED CRIME.

The Grand Jury's Report Causes a Sensation in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—A decided sensation was created here Monday by the final report of the grand jury of the city and county of San Francisco. Most of the departments of the city government the jury criticized severely. Speaking of crime, the report says:

"We think ourselves justified in asserting that in this city crime is organized for purposes of offensive and defensive, and has its aiders and abettors. Our elections, primarily or finally, are controlled to a great extent by twelve to fifteen hundred of the criminal element bound together and rendering 'quid pro quo,' having so-called 'pulls' on men in authority and others influential with those having power. Matters have reached such a condition here that to openly offend the directory of the criminal element seems to invite complete political ostracism. Reciprocity exists between criminals, prostitutes, gamblers and bosses."

Speaking of the Chinese quarter the report says: "This San Francisco Sodom with all its loathsome features, has become so familiar that it has ceased to inspire horror among our citizens."

A Salvationist Horsewhipped.

ELLIOTT CITY, July 25.—A year ago one Capt. McElroy of the Salvation Army established a station here. When he was transferred from Elliott City two months ago McElroy had become engaged to a respectable girl. A few days after his departure it was learned by friends of the girl that he had a wife and family at Gettysburg, Pa. The religious captain came to town last night again, to assist in a revival. A dozen young men, who are friends of the family of the lady above referred to, went to the Salvation Army headquarters, seized McElroy, escorted him to the outskirts of the town, and there waited him with horsewhips and warned him never to enter the gates of Elliott City again.

Cross Seven, White Five Years.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 25.—The trial of Cross and White, the bank officers, on the first indictment ended Saturday in conviction. Cross was sentenced to seven years hard labor, and White to five years. An appeal was taken, which the attorneys for the defendants say will be carried to the Supreme Court of the United States, as a Federal question is involved. Ball was fixed at $10,000. It has not yet been given. The other cases against the defendants were continued.

SIoux BRAVES PROTEST

AGAINST THE OPENING OF THEIR RESERVATION.

The Commission Appointed By the President Confer With the Tribe at Standing Rock Agency—Speeches Made By Chiefs Gall, Grass, Big Head and Others.

STANDING ROCK AGENCY, Dak., July 25.—All is excitement on the Sioux reservation. Never since the granting of the great tract of land to the Indians at the close of the Sioux war, have the Indians been so thoroughly awakened or the white settlers so deeply interested. It has been supposed by a great majority of the reading people that the Sioux reservation, containing 22,000,000 acres of land, was open for settlement by the recent act of congress, but the clause making it necessary to secure the consent of three-fourths of the Indians may keep the land from the public domain for many years. The commission appointed by President Cleveland to confer with the Indians has arrived.

Nearly the entire 5,000 Indians of this agency are camped within two miles of Fort Yates, and additions to their numbers are arriving hourly. Without regard to the merits of the proposition made by the government, and with no definite understanding of the proposed treaty, the tribes gathered here oppose the opening of the reservation. Sitting Bull is the only well known Indian not present, and he will be brought. He left the agency for a hunt, but it is believed the sly old trickster has been at work among the Indians of other agencies sowing seeds of discord and urging them to oppose the measure.

The Indians called a council Sunday, and in the center of their vast city of tents, which were pitched at daylight Sunday morning, they formed the circle, which was composed of wagons, ponies and nearly five thousand Indians. The Indians selected Chiefs Gall, John Grass, Mad Bear, Big Head and Running Antelope for their orators at the commission conference.

John Grass, one of the head chiefs, was the first to speak. He advised the Indians to be careful in what they say to the commission, and, no matter what is said, to make no decision until mature consideration.

Mad Bear, another of the great chiefs, repeated that the whites had broken all former treaties with the Indians, and at the close of his speech there were numerous grunts of applause from the circle.

Up to this time the council had been quiet and comparatively cold. The applause, which is given by grunts and guttural explosion, was mild, but when Mad Bear took his seat, and Chief Gall arose majestically, the Indians went wild. Gall is the handsomest and most commanding Indian of the tribe, and as a field general all the brilliant maneuvers during the Custer campaign, for which Sitting Bull was given credit.

He is unquestionably the finest living Indian orator, and his speech at this council is pronounced by the interpreters to be the most eloquent ever delivered on the reservation. At the close of Gall's speech the applause was savagely enthusiastic.

After speeches by Running Antelope, High Bear and others, and the reading of the proposed treaty, which was printed in the Sioux language, Mad Bear again addressed the circle, and called upon all opposed to giving consent to the treaty to rise. Every Indian in the circle sprang to his feet with a whoop, and this performance was so satisfactory to the orators that it was repeated three times.

The pacific speech of the day was made by Running Antelope, who advised his people to be calm and deliberate in the conference with the commission.

Republicans Organizing.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The Republican congressional committee was organized yesterday and established its headquarters in the Republican National league rooms. Gen. Nathan Goff, of West Virginia, chairman, and Hon. Edward McPherson, secretary, will have immediate charge of the affairs of the committee, with Gen. Dudley the treasurer. Mr. Edward Sutherland has been appointed official stenographer to the committee. Members of the committee say it is their intention to commence campaign operations energetically and at once. By arrangement with the Republican National committee the documents of the campaign will be prepared under the direction of the congressional committee.

Cow Causes a Wreck.

WINONA, Minn., July 25.—A passenger train on the Cannon Falls branch of the Milwaukee road, about 1:30 Monday afternoon struck a cow about ten miles out of Red Wing, and three cars, including one passenger coach, went down a twenty-five foot embankment. The train was carrying Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company. A. Clark, of Hurley, Wis., was crushed to death; two ladies, members of Stetson's troupe, were injured, one having her leg broken. Others sustained sprains and bruises. Another account says two men were killed and the train a complete wreck.

A Campaign of Intellect.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Col. Calvin S. Brice, chairman of the Democratic National campaign committee, says the coming political struggle will be a campaign of intellect. He believes that the people of this country are tired of personalities, and while his party will present the weak points in the records of the Republican candidates, their private lives will not be commented upon.

A Strange and Fatal Disease.

MEMPHIS, July 25.—A strange disease, somewhat like diphtheria, is epidemic among the negroes around Crawfordville, Crittenden county, Ark. The patient's throat swells, contracting the air passages until death ensues from strangulation. So far not one of those attacked has recovered. The scourge is confined to the negroes.

FLEMINGSBURG, Ky., July 25.—George Hurst shot his sister, Fannie, at Locust Creek church, at a late hour Sunday night. Hurst claims it was accidental. The wound will result mortally. Nothing was known which will discredit the brother's story of accident. The victim, can not survive. Monday the young man attempted suicide, but only succeeded in inflicting an ugly wound in his head with a pistol ball.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
of New York.

For Vice President,
ALLAN G. THURMAN, of Ohio.

AUGUST ELECTION, 1888.
For Sheriff,
JOHN W. ALEXANDER.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Democrats of the Ninth Congressional District: I beg leave to submit to you my name in connection with the Democratic nomination for Congress from this district. I have no claims to urge over those of any other true Democrat, and make no announcement with some degree of timidity. I hope to make the primary contest in such a manner as not to create discussion or division in the ranks of the party, and whether I lose or win the nomination, I propose to remain the same unflinching Democrat I have always been. Respectfully,
G. R. KELLAR,
Carlisle, Ky., July 17, 1888.

The Cincinnati Enquirer thinks the Democrats will win "with hands down," if they continue as they started out.

The citizen who will start a factory in Maysville will do the town more good than a half dozen others who engage in selling goods.

If the Laborites of Ohio endorse the Democratic State ticket, as at present contemplated, they will worry the Republicans next fall.

The Prohibitionists of Lewis County have nominated J. W. Carr, of Poplar Flat, for Sheriff. The Democrats will support him, says the Vanceburg Times.

Downs in Ohio County three Democratic clubs were organized last Saturday. Hon. W. O. Bradley, late Republican candidate for Vice President, made speeches in that county last week.

The suicide of Mr. Henry at Hopkinsville a few days ago makes the second vacancy in the Democratic electoral ticket of this State. The Executive Committee will substitute new names.

There are three or four boot and shoe factories at Portsmouth, we understand, doing a profitable business. Maysville has greater advantages than Portsmouth possesses, and there is no reason why such an enterprise would not prove a paying investment here.

"The free whisky plank is in the platform and cannot be held out of it. No Republican newspaper anywhere should deny it."—Wheeling Intelligencer.

The Intelligencer is the official organ of the West Virginia Republicans, and the above is a much more manly statement than the New York Tribune, Cincinnati Commercial Gazette and some other Republican journals have dared to make.

There are eighty-five widows in Danville, Ky., and not a marriage has occurred in Danville for ten years in which the bride was a widow. Many of them are handsome, and some of them have a sufficiency of this world's goods, and are also surrounded by bright and smiling cherubic faces, but nevertheless, the circumstances above referred to prevail.—Henderson News.

Heavens! Why was not this fact not made known before the Press Convention was held there?—New Era.

The Edgar Thompson Steel Rail Mills of Braddock, Pa., are among the highest protected enterprises of this country. Last year the company cleared $8,000,000 on a capital of $30,000,000. Right in the face of this big profit, the company tried to compel its employees to accept a reduction of 10 per cent in wages a few days ago. Protection protects the mill owners, but the employees can whistle for high wages. They are forced to take what the monopolists are willing to give.

"The more the intelligent American citizen studies the statistics of our last fiscal year, ending the 30th of June, 1888," says an exchange, "the more he learns. We sent abroad that year less than 64,000,000 bushels of wheat. In the year ending June 30, 1887, we sent abroad nearly 102,000,000 bushels. In 1888 we exported 106,336,000 bushels, and in 1881 the magnificent total of 150,565,000 bushels. And so in seven years, through the foolish effort of the Republican managers to build a Chinese wall around this country, our farmers have lost over 60 per cent. of their foreign sales for their great product."

Religious News.

Rev. Dr. H. A. M. Henderson is visiting in Kentucky.

STILL THEY COME.

Additional List of Republicans and Others Who Do Not Favor High Protection and Free Whisky.

They Will Vote for Cleveland, Thurman and Tariff Reform Next Fall, or Stay at Home.

A special from Corydon, Ind., to the Louisville Post says: "The Indiana machine will find it a difficult task to repair Ben Harrison's fences in this country. There never was as much disaffection in the Republican ranks before, and men who have heretofore been uncompromising Republicans will not vote for Harrison. Isaac Labue, the leader of the Labor party of this county, told the Post reporter to-day that he knew of twenty-five Republicans in his community who would not go to the polls on election day."

Secretary McMullen, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a prominent officer in the United Labor party, has resigned his place in that party to identify himself with the Democratic party which he says is the only party in this country truly and consistently in favor of the interests of laboring men.

Owen G. Lovejoy, of Princeton, Ill., a son of the Owen Lovejoy of anti-slavery fame, who has never voted a Democratic ticket, is now an open and avowed supporter of Cleveland and Thurman and of the Democratic revenue reform policy. A sort of political migration is taking place from the protective Republican to the tariff reform Democratic camp by those sturdy old families about Princeton—the Lovejoys and the Bryants, the latter headed by J. H. Bryant, a brother of the poet. Nor is it confined to that section, but throughout the State there is a movement among those old-time abolitionists who entered the Republican party to aid in overthrowing slavery, and who now, disgusted with the protective policy of the Republican party, are going back to their first love as exemplified by the tariff reform policy of the Democratic party. For some years Mr. Lovejoy has been in favor of a revision and reduction of the tariff. He only remained with the Republican party on the strength of its pledges pertaining to tariff reform made in its national platforms of four and eight years ago. Now, in common with thousands of others, finding that all such pledges have been ignored and a policy of high taxation and protection of monopolies encouraged he has felt himself compelled, in order to remain true to his views and convictions, to cut loose from his party associations and support the tariff reform ticket.—Exchange.

The Harrisburg, Pa., Patriot says: "Mr. D. S. Early, a well-known citizen of Harrisburg, declares his intention of supporting Cleveland and Thurman. Mr. Early at one time was a very influential Republican and, afterwards a leader of the Greenback party in Pennsylvania. Mr. Early has since voted the Republican ticket. A Patriot reporter called on Mr. Early on Saturday and asked him what his views were on the present political issues. He replied substantially as follows: 'I think the Democratic party is the people's party, and I mean to support its candidates. Mr. Cleveland has given us an honest, uncorrupted administration, and as a true American citizen I believe it is my duty to vote for him. His principles are the principles of the party, and I believe his party is accomplishing more good for the best interests of America than the Republicans ever did. I admire the Democratic party, among other things, because it has done what it promised to do, and among other things for which I became disgusted with the Republican party was because it did not do what it promised to do. I have been a close student of State and National affairs, and I am now thoroughly convinced that the Democratic party is for honest and substantial government, and therefore I shall support its National ticket.'"

Moonshiners in Ohio.
MANSFIELD, O., July 25.—A well authenticated report is current that within the precincts of Richland county moonshiners are operating two distilleries. One is said to be located near Newville, in Worthington township, and the other between Belleville and Johnsville, near the Morrow county line. A druggist and a saloonist of this city are alleged to be handling the illicit goods from these distilleries and doing a rushing business in a fine quality of old rye. Local patrons of these stills leave their jugs and money in proximity to the moonshiners' headquarters and receive their supplies.

Stabbed With a Pair of Shears.
BALTIMORE, Md., July 25.—Richard J. Capron, a capitalist of this city, Monday afternoon went to the office of John King, a well known real estate broker, to transact some business. Their conversation became heated and finally the lie was given by one of them. The two men clinched and Mr. Capron picked up a large pair of shears from the desk and stabbed Mr. King three times; two of the wounds are slight, but the third penetrated the left breast of Mr. King and is believed to have entered the lung. Mr. Capron was arrested, and after a hearing, was released on bail to await the result of Mr. King's injuries.

Lexington Biologists' Fatal Header.
MILLERSBURG, Ky., July 25.—The Lexington, Paris and Millersburg biologists met at the Blue Licks Sunday to organize a Kentucky National League. On their return Sunday evening John May, one of the Lexington wheelmen, while going down grade at Miller's hill, five miles from this place, got a header which knocked him unconscious, in which state he remained until brought here Sunday evening. His friends fear that his fall may prove fatal.

THE MAYSVILLE FAIR.

Extensive Preparations Being Made For a Big Time all 'Round.

A Finer Exhibition, Faster Racing And a Larger Attendance Than Ever Before Expected.

The Maysville Fair will commence Wednesday, August 22nd, and close Saturday, August 25th. Extensive preparations are being made and it will undoubtedly prove "the fair of fairs" in all this section.

The programme and premium list is out. The premiums throughout have been enlarged. They are exceedingly liberal, and undoubtedly will insure a splendid exhibition in every department. In the speed rings the entries already give promise of as fine racing as ever witnessed on the grounds. The phenomenal trotters Susie S, 2:20; Hourie, 2:19½; Ben Hur, the crack four-year-old; Linnie, the great three-year-old; Bell Boy, Edgewood and others are entered in some of the stakes. Three races will be given each day, the Maysville Fair being the only fair to give that number.

Arrangements have been made with the railroad companies and the Kentucky Central and Maysville and Big Sandy will run special trains each day, at low rates. This will enable the people from Flemingsburg, Carlisle, Millersburg, and Paris on the K. C., and from Augusta, Dover, Ripley, Manchester, Concord, Rome, Vanceburg, Quincy, Portsmouth, Greenup, Ashland and other points on the Maysville and Big Sandy an easy, cheap and pleasant means of attending the fair and returning home the same day. In addition trains will be run to the grounds from Front street every fifteen minutes at a low rate for the round trip. The railroad facilities are the finest, and the large amphitheater will undoubtedly be taxed to its fullest to accommodate the crowds who will attend. The fair promises to be "the blue ribbon fair of Kentucky."

Remember the dates, and remember that ladies and children will be admitted free the first day.

Notice.

All parties having accounts against A. Bona & Co. will please present them at once. A. BONA & CO.

True Story of the Calumet and Hecla.

John Harrington was so lucky in the May drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery. Like the substantial, matter-of-fact man that he is, he continues as engineer at the Atlantic Mining Company's stamp mill. His ticket, which was one-tenth of No. 21,492, the one that drew the second capital prize of $30,000, was the second that he had bought in the Louisiana State Lottery. His prize was collected for him by the National Bank of Houghton. It was promptly invested by him in stock of the Calumet & Hecla Mining Company.—Houghton (Mich.) Gazette, June 14.

The New Depot.

The ticket offices of the Maysville and Big Sandy and the Kentucky Central railroads will be removed to the new depot in the West End about the 6th of August, after which date all the local passenger business of the two roads will be transacted at that point; that is, all passenger trains will leave there and run into that depot on their arrival here. The freight business will be transacted at present Kentucky Central depot.

Mr. Robert Ficklin will have charge of the passenger department, and his brother will attend to the freight traffic.

A force of hands is engaged this week fitting up the new depot.

That Rarest of Combinations.

True delicacy of flavor with true efficacy of action has been obtained in the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. Its pleasant taste and beneficial effects have rendered it immensely popular. For sale in 50 cent and $1 bottles.

Free Lecture.

Sunday evening July 29th, 1888, at the M. E. Church, in Aberdeen, Miss H. Titus, a blind lady, will deliver a lecture upon the "Immortality of Memory." And will read the Bible in raised letters. Miss Titus is very highly recommended. A collection will be taken in her behalf.

The Bandana Club.

The Bandana Club held a brief business meeting at the court house last night, the President, Dr. John M. Frazee, presiding. The attendance was light.

An addition of about twenty names was reported to the membership—fourteen from the Fourth ward.

It was decided to meet but once a week hereafter—on Saturday nights.

A motion was adopted unanimously that Mr. Charles Shackelford and Judge Whitaker be invited to address the club at its next meeting.

The Secretaries reported that no definite arrangements had yet been made for speakers for the rally to be held the Saturday night previous to the August election.

The club adjourned to meet next Saturday night.

Stock, Field and Farm.

Susie S., entered in one of the stake races at the coming fair, is reported to have made a half mile in one minute at Richmond a few days ago.

Reports from the thirty-three roundup districts in Colorado, says the Montana Live Stock Journal, show the cattle to be in an excellent condition, and the loss last winter to be unusually small.

The Pittsburgh Stockman says: "There seems to be less live stock disease in this country just now than at any time for years. Good cattle are fully $1 per hundred higher than they were a year ago."

There are in America over four million farms, large and small. They cover nearly twenty million acres of improved land, and their total value is something like $10,000,000,000. The estimated value of the yearly products of these farms is between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000.

The more wheat that is brought to market the more evident it is that the crop this year is the most enormous ever grown in Daviess County. Careful estimates place it at 200,000 bushels, nearly twice as much as was ever grown before. The farmers are surprised beyond measure to learn the magnitude of the yield. One instance may be cited, which is a fair specimen of the stories told: Allen Reed sold his crop before the harvest, estimating the yield from his 140 acres at 3,000 bushels. Since threshing it he learns that he will have about 4,500 bushels. The farmers are in splendid humor over the result, and are preparing to put in a big crop this fall.—Owensboro Messenger.

THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY.—The Louisville Branch Office, of Kentucky and Tennessee, Roe & Lyon, managers, have sent forward applications amounting to $2,298,000 for the current half year, against $1,412,500 for the corresponding period of 1887, a gain of $885,500 or 63 per cent. The gain at the Home Office, in the entire business of the Equitable is about $15,000,000 indicating a new business of $175,000,000 in 1888 against $138,000,000 for last year.

The Equitable is the largest, strongest and most prosperous, great Mutual Life Insurance Company in the World. J. Dudley Smith, General Agent, in connection with Jos. F. Brodrick, Local Agent, represent the Equitable in Maysville, and will be pleased to furnish you a full explanation of the "Free Tontine" policy recently devised by the Equitable.

THE FUTURE OF HOLLAND

BEING DISCUSSED IN THE POLITICAL CIRCLES OF EUROPE.

A Rumor that the Czar Desires the Balkan States to be Independent—The Parnell Investigation Likely to Stop—Drowning Accident in Africa—Notes.

LONDON, July 25.—The bill now before the Dutch parliament appointing Queen Emma guardian of the princess royal, with a council of four members to assist her, has revived discussion in political circles regarding the future of Holland.

That Germany longs to see Holland and her rich colonies fall by gravitation into the empire, and that she would also like to see Belgium enlarged at the expense of France, thereby relieving England of alarm because of the presence of the German flag at Rotterdam, has long been the talk of politicians.

No sooner did the infant daughter of the king of Holland become a stress lately to her father's crown than the conviction strengthened that in time she must be wed to a Hohenzollern prince. Among Dutch politicians there is constant talk of the slender security which exists for the independence of their country. But they do not appear to suppose or fear that any change will be brought about by force.

Among international lawyers, Article 63, of the Belgian constitution, is just now receiving a great deal of attention, owing to the recent publication of an article in the Mouvement Revue, to the effect that Count Herbert Bismarck has succeeded in making a treaty with King Leopold, whereby German armies are in the event of a Franco-German war, to be allowed to pass through Belgium.

A majority of the legal lights contend that according to the article mentioned the king has the right to make treaties of peace, alliance or commerce without communicating them to the chambers until the safety and interests of the state permit, and they also interpret the clause as allowing the king to make a treaty without the advice or intervention of his ministers. Germany claims the right, under a secret treaty made by Prussia with Belgium in 1881, and never abrogated, to occupy the fortresses of Namur and Liege, in case their safety should be menaced.

In diplomatic circles doubts are entertained that Count Bismarck has been successful in concluding the treaty alluded to, but it is sufficiently possible to admit of serious consideration that the officers of the German staff would find it convenient to make some arrangement for the eventuality of conducting military operations on Belgian soil.

Even if they did not contemplate a march through Belgium it would be a great advantage to them to be assured of certain privileges and concessions in case it should become necessary to meet an enemy advancing through Belgium, and they might even be glad to have it believed, though it were not true, that their plans contemplated the occupation of Belgium by treaty right, if only for the purpose of throwing dust in the eyes of their adversaries.

The Czar and the Balkan States.
LONDON, July 25.—Berlin and Vienna journals state, on the strength of reports from a Russian source, that the czar may perhaps prove the independence of the Balkan states. They say that the czar is willing to make such a concession to Bulgaria, but that Prince Ferdinand must leave the throne. Under these conditions Germany will support Russia, and Emperor William will order Prince Ferdinand's departure.

These reports are significant only as indications that negotiations are in progress in regard to Bulgaria. The state is an autonomous and virtually independent state already. Russia made her so for a purpose, which was that her government should be in the hands of Russian agents. It may be assumed that the czar has not departed from the determination that she shall be so. Otherwise there were no reason for ousting Ferdinand. When Austria agrees to a Russian reorganization of Bulgaria it may be assumed that she has entered into an arrangement for the partition of Turkey under German pressure.

The Parnell Inquiry Fiasco.

LONDON, July 25.—As was apparent from the outset, the Tory government has prepared a commission bill for inquiry into the London Times' charges against Parnell and others that they were in fact accessory to the Phoenix park murders and other outrages, which the Liberals will not accept. It is designed to ring in all acts committed by the league, that they may be charged by implication upon Parnell. The latter Monday demanded that the charges against him only should be investigated. He was supported by Mr. Gladstone in his demand. As the whole matter is for political effect, there is a deadlock and no probability of an investigation. A rumor is in circulation that it is a woman who is back of the Parnell investigation, and that she forged the notorious letters. It is probably a canard.

The City of New York.

LONDON, July 25.—The new steamer City of New York arrived at Liverpool from the Clyde Monday, after a trial trip around the Scotch and Irish coasts, during which she showed eighteen knots an hour while working her engines at three-quarter speed. She sails for America on August 1.

In Rome It Must Be.

BERLIN, July 25.—Negotiations are in progress with Italy regarding the proposed visit of Emperor William to King Humbert. The Italian government persists that if there is to be any meeting it must be in Rome.

Foreign Notes.

Emperor William has conferred the Order of the Black Eagle upon M. De Giers, Russian foreign minister, and the Order of the Red Eagle upon M. Vianigoli, under secretary of the foreign office.

The North German Gazette, referring to the rumors of disarmament published in French papers, says: "Such childish and absurd lucubrations could never be ventured upon among reading people in Germany. The idea is so silly that the inventor must have supposed himself writing for the veriest tyros in politics."

It is believed in Russian court circles that the meeting of the kaiser and the czar indicates a resumption of amity tending toward permanent European peace. Diplomats think there will be no tangible outcome of the interviews such as followed the Skier-nivka and Krenauzer meetings of the czar and Emperor William I, but that the present meeting will merely remove misunderstandings and promote amicable relations.

A European Regatta.

VIENNA, July 25.—The regatta Monday on Lake Guunden, on the occasion of the "Battle of Flowers," was a brilliant affair. The emperor was unable to attend, but the queen of Hanover, the Princess Mary and the dukes of Montpensier and of Wurttemberg were present. Many members of the highest nobility and aristocracy, dressed in allegorical costumes, were in the boats, and thousands of society people were spectators. Mme. Pauline Lucca was one of the jury of ladies.

Maud S Tries a Trial Mile.

NEW YORK, July 25.—At Fleetwood park Monday Maud S, driven by Johnny Murphy, trotted a trial mile in 1:13 1-2, the fastest ever made on the Fleetwood track. Mr. Bonner is having the mare put in condition to beat her record of 2:08 3-4, in case he should decide to have her do so this summer or autumn.

Racing in London.

LONDON, July 25.—The race for the Appleby plate to-day at the Leicester summer meeting, was won by Ice, Pillery second, Marion third. There were nine starters.

Arrandale won the race for the Midland derby stakes, White Flag second, Devote third. There were eleven starters.

Sporting Notes.

Corocco, Gunshot, Rebellion, Ferg Kyle and Ernest were first in the Brighton Beach races Monday.

A fight is said to be imminent between Jack Dempsey and Mike Donavin, an old-time New York slugger.

At Syracuse, N. Y., Monday, Teemer won the international single scull regatta, Ten Eyck second, Hamm third.

Winners at Chicago races Monday were Aboka, Champagne Charlie, Orderly, Lepanto, Longlight and Lucien.

Jimmy Carroll, the Boston light-weight scrapper, says he can thump Billy Meyers, of Illinois, and has $1,000 to back up his assertion.

Jem Smith, champion of England, has accepted the challenge of Mike Conley, the Irish giant, to fight on the continent for $1,000 a side.

The League of American Wheelmen convened at Toledo Monday. In the parade 300 bicycles were in line. They will take in Ann Arbor and Detroit, Mich.

McKean has been made captain of the Cleveland club in place of Snyder. Manager Loftus is making a rattle among the dry bones, and the team is playing winning ball.

The Terre Haute, Ind., club has been wrecked on the rocks of financial distress and was disbanded. It is thought that the Interstate League, of which it was a member, will soon throw up the sponge.

President Cleveland's Prize for the three best babies at the Aurora County Fair, in 1887, was given to these triplets, Mollie, Ida, and Ray, children of Mrs. A. K. Dart, Hamburg, N. Y. She writes: "Last August the little ones became very sick, and as I could get no other food that would agree with them, I commenced the use of Lactated Food. It helped them immediately, and they were soon as well as ever, and I consider it very largely due to the Food then used, and is better than medicine when they are sick.
